

14th International Conference on
INFECTIOUS DISEASES, PREVENTION AND CONTROL
March 21-22, 2019 Dubai, UAE

Rare diseases: Prevention and Cure

Yoke Teng Alice Lee
Singapore

She first encountered with Huntington's disease (HD) when she was young. She came to know about HD is getting viral. She took a final decision to have a genetic test. During the test, she came to know she was diagnosed positive for Huntington's disease in September 2013. There are about 7000 rare diseases in the world are Hunter, Gaucher and Fairy rare diseases. Shire patient goes through therapy. A new way of using Crisp Cas 9 helps to sort of ailments including cancer chemotherapy which get rid of genetic diseases. Crisp is a new technology that can edit our cells. She started to do exercise such as running, swimming to build to control herself. During this time, the right nutrients (Drinking nutritious shakes) should be taken according to MGH dietician in Boston.

Symptoms: Due to Huntington's disease, many people are suffering from short time memory loss, can't able to have a balanced diet. Sometimes their hands will stop them to write or type as the brain is controlled, they have slur speech sometimes.

Biography

Yoke Teng Alice Lee Worked for Shire HGT Inc for two years from September 2012 to April 2014. She took care of the rare diseases patient samples and clinical trials too. She also helped with data entry of the patient samples which were written on the form.

guialice@gmail.com

Notes: