What is the meaning of presence of spider veins in Patients with cancer using chemotherapy?Huang Wei LingMedical Acupuncture and Pain Management Clinic, Brazil*

Introduction: According to Western medicine, spider veins is an aesthetics condition. The purpose of this study is to show that spider vein in patients with cancer is not an aesthetic condition but can mean that the patient is suffering a process of thrombosis due the use of chemotherapy and can be aggravated when has a history of receiving the COVID-19 vaccine injection. Methods: one case report of 75 years-old male patient with history of treatment of gastric cancer and had been using chemotherapy with no response to this treatment and evolved to metastasis to Lungs. The daughter said that it appeared spider veins in front of his left knee. The patient also had a history of receiving three doses of the COVID-19 vaccine, the last one six months before the onset of spider veins. The author asked for D dimer in the blood. It was also done measurement of the energy of the five internal massive organs of the five elements theory of traditional Chinese medicine using radiesthesia procedure. Results: all organs were in the lowest level of energy, rated one out of eight. The D dimer was very high (>3.500 ng/dl) meaning that the patient was suffering from a thrombosis process caused by the use of chemotherapy and any kind of highly concentrated medications or vaccines. The conclusion of this study was that cancer patient that appeared spider vein is an indication of thrombosis caused by the use of highly concentrated medications, in this case, chemotherapy and COVID-19 vaccine. The treatment replenishing the energy of the five internal massive organs using highly diluted medications according to the theory of Constitutional Homeopathy of the Five Elements Based on Traditional Chinese Medicine is of paramount importance to increase the energy of the five internal massive organs to allow the Blood to circulate adequately and normally without thrombosis.
