

National AI Capital – Global Initial Survey

Aco Momcilovic

Aco Momcilovic Psychologist with an MBA association which is gathering all MBA alumni in Croatia.

Abstract:

What are the biggest differences between countries and individuals that we talk about? How could AI development influence those differences in the future? What is National AI Capital as a concept?

Proposal how to measure NAIC. Is it important and what experts think about NAIC, and how much time do we have to react? Discussion about priority areas of AI investments and different stakeholders.

Biography:

Aco Momcilovic Psychologist with an MBA, 10 years of experience in the HR and Management in International companies and best Croatian startups. Experienced at Crypto Enthusiast / Trader / ICO Investor and Advisor Future HR • Employee First position in Human Resources was in ledo and after that he spent 4 years working in L'Oreal adria. Next two years he was HR Manager in bill and after that position he worked as HR consultant on different projects (from headhunting to rightsizing and organizational change) in different industries.

Currently he is on the position of CHRO in rimac automobile. Additionally he is lecturing on different business schools on the topics of HR and Corporate culture. In his free time, he is President of MBA Croatia, association which is gathering all MBA alumni in Croatia, and president of business-humanitarian organization POZA.

Publication of speakers:

1. Yates, Sherry & Walker, Andrew & Van Meter, Kerri. (2020). Artificial Intelligence.
2. Garg, Rachit. (2020). Distributed Artificial Intelligence. 10.13140/RG.2.2.14831.87202.
3. Shaziya, Humera. (2020). Artificial intelligence Material. 10.13140/RG.2.2.20621.97766.
4. Yates, Sherry & Walker, Andrew & Van Meter, Kerri. (2020). Artificial Intelligence.

Webinar on Artificial Intelligence and its applications | October 18, 2020 | London, UK

Citation: Aco Momcilovic, National AI Capital – Global Initial Survey; Artificial Intelligence 2020; October 18, 2020; London, UK.